NASPA announces 2014 election results

Boise State University Associate VP of Student Affairs elected Region V Director

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The leadership of NASPA-Student Affairs Administrators in Higher Education, is pleased to announce the results from the January 2014 election.

Leslie Webb, associate vice president for student affairs at Boise State University, was elected Region V Director. She will take over from Denece Huftalin when her term ends in March of 2015.

Webb provides support to a variety of departments that amplify a vibrant campus life. These areas include student involvement, leadership, sorority and fraternity life, clubs and organizations, student government, international and multicultural student services, gender and LGBT support, campus recreation, career services, and housing and residence life.

Webb has worked in residence life, student activities, student leadership, multicultural affairs, assessment and planning, as well as other functional areas. Much of her work in the field has been dedicated to serving underrepresented student populations and advocating for critical work around privilege and power dynamics.

She has a B.A. in Theatre Arts from Central Washington University, an M.S. in College Student Personnel from Western Illinois University, and a Ph.D. in Educational Leadership from Colorado State University.

Webb became involved in NASPA following graduate school.

“My desire to serve as NASPA Region V Director stems from my ongoing reflection on the role NASPA and its members have played in my own professional evolution,” she says. “NASPA plays, and must continue to play, a critical role in the development of the next cohort of student affairs practitioners. As our campuses continue to change, flexing to meet the demands, desires and possibilities that emerging populations present, our professional associations must do the same.”
